Project Description: (Repeat all information from Page 1)

The West Ellerbe Creek Greenway Project is a 10-foot wide multi-purpose path along West Ellerbe Creek in Durham County, North Carolina (Figure 1). The greenway will be designed as a multi-use bicycling and pedestrian trail. This type of trail is typically constructed as a 10-foot wide asphalt path, with an aggregate base, and two-foot wide shoulders on either side. Land disturbance for the construction of these trails is generally 15 to 30 feet wide.

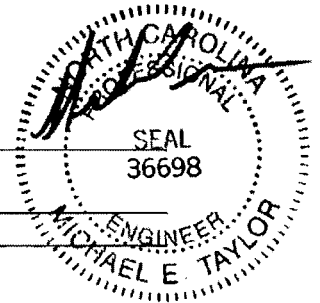

The proposed corridor extends Northeast from the existing park west of Guess Road (Westover Park) to the Stadium Drive Trail. The total length of the project corridor is approximately 1.0 miles. There will be two signalized crossings associated with this project. A pedestrian hybrid beacon for the Guess Road crossing, and a full traffic signal with pedestrian accommodations at the North Pointe Road crossing.
